SOURCE TO CAUSE

I've heard it said that as "source" I should handle something way outside my general activity.

This is a confusion between Source and Cause.

You are Cause over your area. Results are the effect of your own efforts. When these support general programs we all win.

You should not minimize yourself as Cause. It is your greatest ability.

Being blamed sometimes blunts Being Cause. But if one's total ambition is to be blameless the best situation is to get one's name on a tombstone. And it's no fun being dead.

Being Cause over Matter, Energy, Space, Time, Force, Form, Location and Life is just another way of saying "OT."
